

Contents

AEN AotearoaEthnicNetwork

AENJ is published by:

Wairua Consulting Limited
PO Box 60-517
Titirangi
Waitakere 0642
Aotearoa/New Zealand
info@wairua.co.nz
www.wairua.com

Copyright © 2007 Wairua Consulting Limited and individual authors.

Where applicable AENJ is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-NoDerivs 2.5 License. You can copy and redistribute for non-commercial purposes but must not alter and you must acknowledge both the author and AEN Journal in full.

www.creativecommons.org

The views expressed in this issue are those of the individual contributors, not of Wairua Consulting Limited or the editors and publication does not suggest endorsement.

Cover photograph CyberWhare, 155 Community House, Whangarei, Andy Williamson.

2 Editorial: Harnessing ICTs for ethnic community development

Andy Williamson and Ruth DeSouza

5 Waka rorohiko

Robert Sullivan

6 Growing, sustaining and retaining skills in the ICT sector in New Zealand

Hon David Cunliffe MP

10 Reflections on Enabling the Millennium Development Goals in Puerto Rico: Representations and Realities

Sarai Lastra

14 Tangata Whenua, the Treaty and the New Zealand Digital Strategy

Robyn Kamira

18 Asymmetrical Warfare: Having a biffa with the mainstream media

Keith Ng

22 Community as an icon

Gilson Schwartz

29 Images: ICT working at the grassroots

30 Increasing the uptake of ICT amongst Pacific Island Early Childhood Education Centres in Manukau City

Kate Sutton

34 The promise of information technology?

Richard Pamatata

38 Living Cultural Storybases: Self-empowering narratives for minority cultures

Laura Packer, Paul Rankin and Robin Hansteen-Izora

47 Some tentative thoughts on diaspora and the emergence of voice and video over the internet

Andrew Clark

50 Information for contributors